UiT The Arctic University of Norway

Developing the High North

Why UiT?

- A comprehensive university located far above the Arctic Circle
- Comparative advantage in arctic studies, research, and expertise
- National commitment to promote studies and research pertaining to the High North
- Cooperation with high-ranking institutions worldwide including the Global South

Returing to RV Kronprins Haakon after a day on the sea ice. Photo: Christian Morel

Opportunities for researchers and teachers

- 7 faculties and 240 degree programmes including PhD level in most subject areas
- Excellent research facilities with access to national and international infrastructure
- Host to some 15 thematic research centres
- An attractive international workplace with 25 % of our 3,800 employees coming from approx. 80 countries (2024)

Do you want to work with us?

UiT PhD fellowships and postdoctoral positions are announced regularly. Search for vacant positions in Norway at jobbnorge.no

Photo: David Jensen

Studying abroad – a life-changing experience

- A full degree or a study exchange period? 30 degree programmes and hundreds of courses taught entirely in English
- Affordable housing in convenient distance to the campuses and town centres
- Numerous student-led sports clubs, societies, and associations
- A welcome programme for new students at the start of each semester
- A diverse academic hub with 10 % of our 17,000 students coming from approx. 100 countries (2024)
- No tuition fee for exchange students
- Spectacular nature for outdoor activities all year round
- Vibrant city life with countless meeting places and leisure activities

Photos: top left: Campus Narvik / Kalle Punsvik. Top right: Campus Harstad / Tomas Rolland, UiT. Bottom left: Campus Alta / Stina Guldbrandsen and bottom right: Campus Tromsø / Screen Media

Welcome to a life experience at the world's northernmost university

UiT was established in 1968. It has four international city campuses across Northern Norway: Harstad, Narvik, Alta, and Tromsø.

For more information:

mobility@uit.no

en.uit.no

Front-page photo: Kai Rune Mortensen. Graphic design: Siri Jachlin